

Correction

A story Tuesday headlined "Two at arsenal charged with fraud" stated the men were Joliet Army Arsenal employees. In fact, they worked for Honeywell at the time authorities charge they conspired to defraud the government. Their division later became Alliant Techsystems. The arsenal itself does not employ anyone.